| Description | | | |
| It would be great if Audacious had a way to browse a music collection as a grid of album (or artist) art. | | | |
| Something like the interface of Musique: https://flavio.tordini.org/musique | | | |
| (Note that this player doesn't have half of the features of Audacious though) | | | |

- Status changed from New to Rejected

This would be a feature better suited for a heavier-weight, database-based player. Audacious really just wasn't designed to support something like this.
