Affects version:	4.3.1

Description

I don't think any other updates could have done that but after Fedora 39 got this Qt 5 update I can no longer change the currently playing song or adjust the volume using the mouse scroll button.

Left, middle and right mouse clicking still work (show the main window, pause and show the context menu).

History

#1 - January 28, 2024 10:19 - Artem S. Tashkinov

I'm using a classic X11 session (XFCE without compositing). No wayland stuff.

#2 - January 28, 2024 17:02 - Artem S. Tashkinov

I've rebuilt audacious however the issue persists.

#3 - March 16, 2024 12:06 - Thomas Lange

- Status changed from New to Rejected

- Category changed from libaudqt to plugins/statusicon

This is a known issue and is caused by Qt not implementing the scroll method for the StatusNotifierItem.
