Audacious - OLD, PLEASE USE GITHUB DISCUSSIONS/ISSUES - Feature #157

OS X Version

August 02, 2012 19:44 - Diogo Lemos

Status:	Rejected		Start date:	August 02, 2012
Priority:	Minor		Due date:
Assignee:			% Done:	0%
Category:			Estimated time:	0.00 hour
Target version:	3.6
Affects version:

Description

Hi.

Can you consider making a version to OS X?
I don't like iTunes and only want a simple good player to play my music. Love this one!

Thank you!

History

#1 - August 03, 2012 00:45 - John Lindgren

Personally, I can't afford a Mac to build such a version. In theory it should be possible, though.

#2 - August 03, 2012 01:12 - Ariadne Conill

It is on my TODO.

#3 - July 25, 2014 13:47 - Ariadne Conill

- Target version set to 3.6

A very rough cut build should be available in 3.6 once released.

#4 - September 25, 2014 11:12 - Ariadne Conill

At this point the Qt port is stable enough to consider shipping a formula in Homebrew for it.

I am working on that.

#5 - September 25, 2014 20:56 - Diogo Lemos

That would be fantastic William Pitcock. Thank you for picking this up (even after 2 years) :D

#6 - January 29, 2017 19:58 - John Lindgren

- Status changed from New to Rejected

Looks like this effort is currently stalled.