Description

Current list view of songs is not very helpful if you have 1000 albums. An hierarchical/expandable album/songs view or better still album artist/album/song view in both library and playlists would be much more functional. And if you can also add album cover arts to that list it would be great.

Splean (an XMMS2 client) implements this though with too small album covers. Attached.

Regards.

Audacious is a playlist-based player. I think you would do best to look elsewhere.
