In fact, steps #3 and #4 are irrelevant. Step #5 (showing Playlist Editor) causes this issue.

What version of GTK+ are you using?

#3 - September 19, 2015 18:52 - Mad Joe

$ apt-cache policy libgtk2.0-0 libgtk-3-0 | grep Installed

```
Installed: 2.24.27-0ubuntu1
          3.14.13-0ubuntu1
```

- Status changed from New to Rejected

You are seeing the effects of GNOME bug #746064. To fix the problem, update to GTK+ 2.24.28.

Also a duplicate of #519.

Thank you for an explanation. I really love Audacious with a classic Winamp skin! Maybe it should be the default skin. :)

Cheers,
