Target version:
Affects version:	3.7

Description

My Audacious is behaving strangely recently. It is creating temporary mp3 files for the played songs in my user home directory. I had been using audacious for more than 2 years with many versions of Ubuntu and the issue appeared in last 1 or 2 months only.

Details if required.

1. Ubuntu version 15.10 (Xubuntu)
2. Audacious version: 3.7
3. Multiple temporary copies are created when same song is played multiple times.
4. Home directory is now full of these files and have to remove them manually.

Ubuntu and Audacious are latest version and no update available from apt-get.

I am attaching my config file.
