Description
That would be really important for whoever wants to play a song from a certain moment (min, sec, millisec) without the need of editing the tracks. For my particular purpose that would be simply great (I need to make breaks with 40 seconds segments of fancy songs). Itunes has this feature but that software is not recommended for any djing purposes as too sensitive to any playlist edited on the way.

You can do this with a cuesheet.

To the OP: Couldn't you do this w/a simple cue-sheet file? ie: (NOTE: the time index is mm:ss:frames, NOT hh:mm:ss!) This seems to work for me.
