Description

In the last stable release the equalizer presets button doesn't work, nor I get any message in the console if it's invoked from the command line. The rest of the buttons work normally, including the sliders. I renamed the ~/.config/audacious folder to ~/.config/audacious.bak (because Audacious won't be able to start), it works but the eq presets button issue persists.

That error never has happened in the 3.10.1 release of Debian Buster.

I'm using Audacious and its plugins compiled from the sources (downloaded from the website, not from the GitHub account) in Debian Buster 10.
